Y AC DIJO:

¡HÁGASE LA LUZ!

Y LA LUZ SE HIZO...
